FRA Internship Application Program 2025 Open Position

Description

The FRA (Financial Regulatory Authority) Internship Program for 2025 offers a dynamic and immersive opportunity for students or recent graduates to gain hands-on experience in financial regulation and oversight. Interns will work directly with FRA professionals to support regulatory efforts, conduct market analysis, and assist in the development of policy recommendations. This program provides valuable exposure to the intricacies of financial regulations, enforcement, and policy-making in a professional and supportive environment.

Responsibilities

- Assist in researching and analyzing financial markets, regulations, and industry trends to support regulatory functions.
- Collaborate with teams to prepare reports, presentations, and policy recommendations for senior management.
- Monitor and review financial institutions and market activities to ensure compliance with regulatory standards.
- Contribute to the drafting and revision of regulatory documents and policies.
- Conduct data analysis and assist in preparing financial reports and summaries.
- Participate in internal meetings and discussions on regulatory changes, market activities, and enforcement actions.
- Support the coordination and execution of events, such as training sessions, seminars, or workshops, related to financial regulation.
- Provide administrative support, including managing schedules, organizing files, and tracking project progress.
- Assist with the preparation of materials for audits, reviews, and evaluations of financial entities and activities.

Qualifications

- Currently enrolled in or recent graduate from an undergraduate or graduate program in finance, economics, business administration, law, or a related field.
- Strong interest in financial markets, regulation, and compliance.
- Understanding of financial instruments, market structures, and regulatory frameworks.
- Strong attention to detail and ability to work with complex data.

Experience

- No prior work experience required; however, previous internships, academic projects, or volunteer work related to finance, economics, or law will be considered beneficial.
- Experience working with data analysis or financial modeling is a plus.
