National Crime Agency (NCA) Internship Programme 2025

Description

The National Crime Agency (NCA) Internship Programme 2025 is designed to offer aspiring individuals an opportunity to experience and contribute to the fight against serious and organized crime in the UK. As part of this programme, interns will work alongside experienced professionals, gaining exposure to NCA operations and gaining a deeper understanding of how intelligence and investigative work is carried out to tackle a wide range of criminal activities, including cybercrime, human trafficking, drugs trafficking, and organized crime syndicates.

Responsibilities

- Assist in the preparation, analysis, and presentation of intelligence reports.
- Support investigations by helping to gather, compile, and analyze data.
- Contribute to research on criminal activities, trends, and patterns that support operational decisions.
- Participate in briefings, operational meetings, and collaborate on ongoing investigations.
- Assist in the development of strategies to combat organized crime and enhance national security.
- Provide administrative support to teams as required, including document management, filing, and communication with key stakeholders.
- Attend training and development sessions, learning about law enforcement practices, criminal intelligence analysis, and the role of the NCA.
- Maintain confidentiality and adhere to data protection policies while handling sensitive information.

Qualifications

- Currently enrolled in a degree programme (undergraduate or postgraduate) in criminology, law, criminal justice, cybersecurity, political science, or any related field.
- A strong academic background, with a minimum of a 2:1 in your current programme or equivalent.
- A keen interest in criminal justice, national security, or law enforcement.

Experience

- Previous experience or volunteer work in law enforcement, public sector, or research roles would be advantageous but not essential.
- Any experience with data analysis, research, or administrative tasks will be a plus.

Skills

- Excellent analytical and research skills.
- Strong verbal and written communication skills.
- Ability to work independently and as part of a collaborative team.
