

The British Museum Internship Students Program 2025 Apply Now

Description

The British Museum Internship Students Program 2025 offers a unique opportunity for university students to gain hands-on experience in a world-renowned cultural institution. Interns will work closely with curators, educators, and museum staff to contribute to the museum's mission of preserving and sharing human history and culture. This program provides valuable exposure to the inner workings of a major museum, with opportunities to support projects across various departments, including collections, exhibitions, education, and conservation.

Responsibilities

- Support Museum Projects: Assist with ongoing research, exhibition planning, and cataloging of collections.
- Assist in Educational Programming: Work with the Education team to help organize and deliver public programs and school workshops.
- Administrative Support: Provide administrative assistance to various departments, such as archiving documents, compiling reports, and maintaining databases.
- Research Assistance: Help with academic and historical research related to the Museum's exhibitions and collections.
- Visitor Engagement: Assist with visitor services, providing information about exhibits, and helping with special events.
- Conservation Support: Assist conservation staff in preserving artifacts, including cataloging and basic artifact handling.

Qualifications

- Education: Currently enrolled in or a recent graduate of a university program (undergraduate or postgraduate) in a relevant field such as Archaeology, History, Art History, Museum Studies, Anthropology, or a related discipline.
- Language Proficiency: Proficiency in English is required. Additional languages may be an advantage, depending on specific departmental needs.
- Commitment: Able to commit to the full duration of the internship, typically ranging from 8 to 12 weeks, depending on the department.

Experience

- Academic Knowledge: Demonstrated interest or academic background in museums, cultural heritage, or related fields.
- Experience (Preferred): Previous volunteer, internship, or work experience in a museum, gallery, or cultural organization is advantageous but not required.
